SCHOOL SONG

In the shadows of the mountains
Reared against the sky
Stands our dear old Haysi High School
As the years go by.

Sound the chorus, speed it onward
We will never fail
Hail to thee, our Haysi High School
Hail to thee, all Hail!

In thy halls we formed our friendships
Dear old High School home
And to thee we pledge our hearts
Never more to roam.

Class Prophecy

While sitting in my living room watching television my thoughts wondered 20 years ahead to my graduation class.

The Haysi Bridge broke down only a few days ago, and I saw Rodney, the Engineer, trying to figure out whether to start at the top or the bottom first. His assistant, Lou Ratliff, was standing by patiently trying to get a word in.

An old "Model T" passed by with Loraine Counts and her one family ball team, six girls and five boys, heading for the 1971 County Finals.

Just then I heard a loud roar overhead. I looked up and saw George Wright in a Jet headed for Hollywood to star in "Wild Man from Borneo." Hanging onto the tail of the Jet was Lorraine Burchette, who is Carmen Mirando's biggest rival.

Tuning in on WSM, I saw Lee Compton, the nation's No. I hillbilly singer, making his recording of Hickory Nut Waltz. Faye Long, the famous Base Fiddle Player of West Point, was guest of honor. The program was interrupted by banging buckets, mops and brooms, and George Ball appeared singing Rag Mop. The Master of Cermonies made the following announcements: Peggy Sutherland is replacing Miss Browning, Eugene Steele is replacing Mr. Tarwater as coach, and Fern Rose will take over the classes of both Mary Cain and Homer D. Willis at Haysi.

I switched the button to WLSI, and saw Imogene Stanley, roaming the streets in Middlesboro, Ky. hunting for high altitude and Jean Lowery hunting for that man. An advertisement flashed across the screen advertising Jimmy Hay's Toni Home-Permanents, and showed Nadine Beverly doing the family washing using Charles Woods' home-made soap.

It was time for the news, and Billy Ray Rose, the commentator, gave information on the following members of our class:

Russell Engle was elected to take John L. Lewis's place as head of the C. I. O. Forester Mullins defeated Thomas Dewey as Governor of New York. The president pinned the Purple Heart on Beau Johnson. The marriage of Mabel Hall and Nick Hilton Jr., takes place in Hollywood. Mary Mullins received a raise as concert manager of Margaret Truman. June Harlowe, famous Martin Bomberette player, has completed her fifth year of successful playing. Mary Lou Jones is now starring as a chorus girl in "Guys and Dolls." Dennis Puckett of Barnum and Bailey Circus, will be at the Haysi Theater Monday for a performance.

I turned off the television to go shopping. As I passed the Town Hall loud voices aroused my curosity. Peeping in the window, I saw Benny Arrington before the judge pleading, for his divorce on grounds of desertion. I walked on down the street and met Jimmy O'quin taking the same girl to the Saturday evening movie. On my way home, I passed the Arrington's home and saw Paul, a henpecked husband, doing the dishes.

I was glad to know that my classmates had reached their goal in life.

The girl's basketball team has set an unbeaten record in competing in seventy-seven games during four years without once being defeated. They have won the County and District Championships each of these four years.

The starting team is composed of forwards Betty Barton, Betty Belcher, and Nadine Beverly, Captain---and guards Faye Long, Lorraine Counts, and Patsy Kilgore. Substitutes are forwards Lou Ratliff, Betty Woods, Betty Robinson, and Irene Owens--and guards Margie Musick, Earline Powers, Lois Ratliff, Evelyn Coleman, and Lucille Taylor. Mr. L. G.
